

BIO: Once upon a time, there were two like-minded yogis, Robert Ortner & Wendy Simmons-Taylor, who happened to be bass players. In these strange times, they decided it was time to say what was on their mind and thus Peace at Om was created, a loving collaboration of groovy, uplifting music!

We were both playing music and teaching yoga for a number of years before we actually got together as a musical team and began collaborating on original music.

And then the Pandemic reared its ugly little head, but we didn't let that stop us. We traded snippets of music and lyrics, until we created our 1st CD and named it after our chosen band name, "Peace at Om," playing on the fact that we were finding Peace while confined to our Oms/homes!

As the veil of the Pandemic lifted we continued to create our 2nd and 3rd CDs. It's been liberating and fun to actually use our love of music to convey what we want to say as Peace at Om to the world!
